Procedural History [Arbitration Proceedings]

This arbitration proceeding is in accordance with the .IN Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy [INDRP] and the INDRP Rules of Procedure [the Rules], adopted by the National Internet Exchange of India. The Rules were approved by NIXI on 28th June 2005 in accordance with the Indian Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996. By registering the disputed domain name with a NIXI accredited Registrar, the Respondent agreed to the resolution of the disputes pursuant to the .IN Dispute Resolution Policy and Rules framed thereunder.

According to the information provided by the National Internet Exchange of India [“NIXI”], the history of this proceeding is as follows:

In accordance with Rule 2(a), NIXI formally notified the Respondent of the Complaint and appointed Rodney D. Ryder as the Sole Arbitrator for adjudicating upon the dispute in accordance with the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996, and the Rules framed thereunder, .IN Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy and the Rules framed thereunder. The Arbitrator submitted the Statement of Acceptance and Declaration of Impartiality and Independence, as required by NIXI.

In this matter, the arbitration proceedings commenced on November 14, 2025. A copy of the complaint with the annexures was sent to the Respondent by NIXI through an e-mail dated November 14, 2025. Thereafter, the Panel sent an e-mail dated November 14, 2025, to the Respondent requesting the submission of a response to the complaint by December 05, 2025. In accordance with applicable procedural requirements, the Panel sent an e-mail dated November 19, 2025, requesting the Complainant to share a valid proof of dispatch of the physical copy of the Complaint and annexures to the Respondent's postal address. The Complainant thereafter sent the Panel an e-mail dated November 20, 2025 with a valid proof of dispatch of the physical copy of the Complaint and annexures. With an e-mail dated December 05, 2025, they further confirmed that the said physical copy has been served at the Respondent's address on December 04, 2025. No further communication was received by any of the parties. Specifically, the Respondent did not submit any response or send a written communication during the entire duration of the proceedings.

Grounds for the administrative proceedings

1. The disputed domain name is identical or confusingly similar to a trademark in which the Complainant[s] has statutory/common law rights.
2. The Respondent has no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the disputed domain name.
3. The disputed domain name has been registered or is being used in bad faith.

Parties Contentions

Complainant

The Complainant, Reliance Jio Infocomm Limited [Hereinafter referred to as 'Complainant'] in their complaint, inter alia, contended as follows:

The Respondent's domain name is identical or confusingly similar to a name, trademark or service in which the Complainant has rights.

The Complainant, based on the business, common law rights and trademark registrations for the trademark 'JIO' and brand 'RJIL' and related variations and associated logos, and based on the use of the said trademark and brand in India and other countries, submitted that they are the lawful owner of the trademark 'JIO' and brand 'RJIL' [which is an abbreviation of their full name Reliance Jio Infocomm Limited, incorporating their mark 'JIO'].

The Complainant submits that as the disputed domain name is 'www.rjil.in', the disputed domain name is clearly identical/confusingly similar to the Complainant's brand 'RJIL' in which the Complainant has exclusive rights and legitimate interest.

Background of the Complainant and its statutory and common law rights Adoption:

The Complainant, Reliance Jio Infocomm Limited is a company duly incorporated and organised under the laws of India, having its registered office there. The Complaint's mark 'JIO' was first adopted in December 2011, and the brand 'RJIL' has been used since June 2013 by the Complainant's predecessors, affiliated companies and its franchisees.

The Complainant company is the central component of the Reliance Industries Limited ["RIL"] Group, India's largest private sector conglomerate. The RIL Group is globally recognised, featuring on lists such as the Fortune Global 500. The RIL Group evolved from being a textiles and polyester company to an integrated player across energy, materials, retail, telecommunication, entertainment and digital services.

Under their 'JIO' brand, Complainant runs their business under the name Reliance Jio Infocomm Limited ["RJIL"]. Further, in connection with their 'JIO' brand, the RIL Group has made investments exceeding US$50 billion to establish India's largest digital ecosystem, involving services from connectivity and media to retail, financial services, and cutting-edge technologies like AI, IoT, and 5G. Their True 5G network covers over 2,300 cities and towns across India. The Complainant has built a mobility network with over 99% population coverage and reached 25 million homes with its JIO fiber offering.

The Complainant has also expanded the use of their 'JIO' brand to different market horizons such as 'Jio Studios', 'Jio Cinema', 'JioSaavn' and various flagship businesses in the retail sector under the mark JIO with ventures like AJIO, JioMart, so on and so forth.

RJIL is India's leading telecom provider, structured on four pillars: wireless [4G/5G], home broadband [JioFiber/AirFiber], enterprise, and IoT services. Achieving 100,000 crore revenue and over 42 million net subscribers in FY24, RJIL boasts 469.7 million mobile broadband users.

The Complainant has several websites/domains containing the mark 'JIO' and 'RIL', including <www.jio.com> and <www.ril.com>. The Complainant contends that the same has been accessible to people around the world, including India.

Statutory rights:

The Complainant claims to have registrations for the different variations of the mark 'JIO' and the logos associated with it in India and other countries around the world across various classes.

Respondent

The Respondent failed to reply to the notice regarding the complaint.

Discussion and Findings

The Respondent does not have any relationship with the business of the Complainant or any legitimate interest in the mark 'JIO' / brand 'RJIL'. Moreover, the Complainant has neither given any license nor authorised the Respondent to use the Complainant's mark. The Complainant's brand 'RJIL' is an arbitrary word [an abbreviation of their full name "Reliance Jio Infocomm Limited"] and the Respondent has never been commonly known by the domain name in question and registered the disputed domain name on April 21, 2021, which is subsequent to Complainant's usage of the mark 'JIO' and brand 'RJIL'.

The Complainant's mark 'JIO' was first adopted in December 2011, and the brand 'RJIL' has been used since June 2013. The domain name <www.jio.com> has been registered by the Complainant in title, which acts as one of their primary websites. The Complainant's websites <www.ril.com> and <www.jio.com> are extremely popular in India and around the world and the Complainant claims to have valid and subsisting trademarks registrations for the mark 'JIO' in various countries, including India.

The disputed domain name contains the entirety of the Complainant's brand 'RJIL' [which is an abbreviation of their full name Reliance Jio Infocomm Limited]. Furthermore, the addition of the top-level domain ".in" is irrelevant in determining whether the disputed domain name is confusingly similar to the Complainant's mark. It is well established that the specific top-level domain, such as ".com", ".net", ".in", ".co.in", ".org.in", etc. does not affect the domain name for the purpose of determining whether it is identical or confusingly similar [Relevant Decisions: Magnum Piering, Inc. v. The Mudjackers and Garwood S. Wilson, Sr., WIPO Case No. D2000-1525; Rollerblade, Inc. v. Chris McCrady, WIPO Case No. D2000-0429; Aon PLC and Ors. v. Guanrui, INDRP/63;, Nike Inc. v. Nike Innovative CV Zhaxia, INDRP/804].

It is a well-established principle that once the Complainant makes a prima facie case showing that a Respondent lacks the rights to the domain name at issue, the Respondent must come forward with the proof that it has some legitimate interest in the domain name to rebut this presumption.

The Respondent's Default

The INDRP Rules of Procedure require under Rule 13(b) that the arbitrator must ensure that each party is given a fair opportunity to present its case. Rule 13(b) reads as follows

"The Arbitrator shall at all times treat the Parties with equality and provide each one of them with a fair opportunity to present their case."

Rule 17 empowers the Arbitrator to proceed with an ex parte decision in case any party does not comply with the time limits or fails to reply against the complaint. Rule 17 reads as follows:

"In event any party breaches the provisions of INDRP rules and/or directions of the Arbitrator, the matter can be decided ex-parte by the Arbitrator and such arbitral award shall be binding in accordance to law."

The Respondent was given notice of this administrative proceeding in accordance with the Rules. The .IN Registry discharged its responsibility under Rule 2(a) to employ reasonably available means calculated to achieve actual notice to the Respondent of the Complaint.

As previously indicated, the Respondent failed to file any reply to the Complaint and has not sought to answer the Complainant's assertions, evidence or contentions in any manner. The Panel finds that the Respondent has been given a fair opportunity to present his case.

The 'Rules' under paragraph 13(a) provides that the Arbitrator shall decide the Complaint on the basis of the statements and documents submitted in accordance with the INDRP and any law that the Arbitrator deems fit to be applicable. In accordance with the Rules, paragraph 17, the Arbitrator may draw such inferences as are appropriate from the Respondent's failure to reply to the Complainant's assertions and evidence or to otherwise contest the Complaint. In the circumstances, the Arbitrator's / Panel's decision is based upon the Complainant's assertions and evidence and inferences drawn from the Respondent's failure to reply.

The issues involved in the dispute

The Complainant in its complaint has invoked paragraph 4 of the INDRP which reads:

"Types of Disputes –

Any Person who considers that a registered domain name conflicts with his/her legitimate rights or interests may file a Complaint to the .IN Registry on the following premises:

- (a) the Registrant's domain name is identical and/or confusingly similar to a Name, Trademark or Service Mark in which the Complainant has rights; and*
- (b) the Registrant has no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the domain name; and*
- (c) the Registrant's domain name has been registered or is being used in bad faith or for illegal/unlawful purpose."*

According to paragraph 4 of the INDRP, there are 3 essential elements of a domain name dispute, which are being discussed hereunder in light of the facts and circumstances of this case.

The Registrant's domain name is identical and/or confusingly similar to a name, trademark or service mark in which the Complainant has rights.

It has been proved by the Complainant that they have intellectual property, particularly trademark rights, and other rights in the brand 'RJIL' by submitting substantial documents. The disputed domain name contains the Complainant's brand 'RJIL' [an abbreviation of their full name "Reliance Jio Infocomm Limited"] in its entirety.

It has been previously decided under the INDRP that incorporating a trademark in its entirety is sufficient to establish the identical and confusingly similar nature of the disputed domain name. [Relevant Decisions: ITC Limited v. Travel India, INDRP/065; Allied DOMEQ Spirits and Wine Limited v. Roberto Ferrari, INDRP/071; International Business Machines Corporation v. Zhu Xumei, INDRP/646; Jaguar Land Rover v. Yitao, INDRP/641; Inter IKEA Systems B.V. v. Roman Zubrickiy, WIPO Case No. D2015-0046].

According to paragraph 3 of the INDRP, it is the responsibility of the Respondent to find out before registration that the domain name he is going to register does not violate the rights of any proprietor/ brand owner.

Paragraph 3 of the INDRP is reproduced below:

"The Registrant's Representations -

By applying to register a domain name, or by asking a Registrar to maintain or renew a domain name registration, the Registrant hereby represents and warrants that:

- (a) the credentials furnished by the Registrant for registration of Domain Name are complete and accurate;*
- (b) to the knowledge of registrant, the registration of the domain name will not infringe upon or otherwise violate the rights of any third party;*
- (c) the Registrant is not registering the domain name for an unlawful and malafide purpose; and*
- (d) the Registrant will not knowingly use the domain name in violation or abuse of any applicable laws or regulations. It is the sole responsibility of the Registrant to determine whether their domain name registration infringes or violates someone else's rights."*

The Respondent has failed in its responsibility discussed above, and in the light of the pleadings and documents filed by the Complainant, the Panel has come to the conclusion that the disputed domain name is identical with or deceptively similar to the Complainant's brand 'RJIL' [an abbreviation of their full name "Reliance Jio Infocomm Limited"]. Accordingly, the Panel concludes that the Complainant has satisfied the first element required by Paragraph 4 of the INDRP. [Relevant Decisions: Magnum Piering, Inc. v. The Mudjackers and Garwood S. Wilson, Sr., WIPO Case No. D2000-1525; Aon PLC and Ors. v. Gangadhar Mahesh, INDRP/632; Wells Fargo & Co. and Anr. v. DeepDas Kumar, INDRP/628; Natures Basket Limited & Ors. v. Dipti Singla, INDRP/683; General Motors India Pvt. Ltd. & Anr. v. Anish Sharma, INDRP/799; Havells India Limited and Anr. v. Whois Foundation, WIPO Case No. D2016-1775; Santa Fe Transport International Limited and Santa Fe Moving Services Private Limited v. Santa fe Packers, Packers Movers WIPO Case No. D2017-0754; Santa Fe Transport International Limited and Santa Fe Moving Services Private Limited v. Achyut Khare, INDRP/886; TransferWise Ltd. vs. Normand Clavet, INDRP/1150]

The Registrant has no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the domain name.

The second element that the Complainant needs to prove and as is required by paragraph 4(b) of the INDRP is that the Respondent has no rights or legitimate interests in the disputed domain name.

The Complainant has never assigned, granted or in any way authorised the Respondent to register or use the 'JIO' trademark, 'RJIL' brand or any other related mark. The Complainant's brand 'RIL' is an arbitrary word [an abbreviation of their full name "Reliance Jio Infocomm Limited"]. The Complainant has been using the 'JIO' mark and 'RJIL' brand for a bona fide purpose in relation to its business for several years.

Moreover, the burden of proof on the Complainant regarding this element of the domain name dispute lies most directly within the Respondent's knowledge. Once the Complainant has made a prima facie case showing that the Respondent does not have any rights or legitimate interest in the domain name, the evidentiary burden shifts to the Respondent to rebut the contention by providing evidence of its rights or interests in the domain name. [Relevant Decisions: Eurocopter, an EADS Company v. Bruno Kerrien, INDRP/116; Voltas Ltd. v. Sergi Avaliani, INDRP/1257; Hitachi Ltd v. Kuldeep Kumar, INDRP/1092; Do The Hustle, LLC v. Tropic Web, WIPO Case No. D2000-0624; Payoneer, Inc. / Payoneer Europe Limited v. Korchia Thibault, Quinv S.A., WIPO Case No. DEU2019-0013].

The Respondent has not rebutted the contentions of the Complainant and has not produced any documents or submissions to show his interest in protecting his own right and interest in the domain name.

Further, the Complaint claims that the Respondent has used the domain name to display a website that appears to host obscene, lascivious content that appeals to prurient interests. As per the Complaint, the said website/ content has since been taken down.

The Respondent has no rights over the 'RJIL' brand used in the disputed domain name and has not made any legitimate non-commercial or fair use of the disputed domain name without intent for commercial gain. The Respondent is thus misleading consumers by using the Complainant's 'RJIL' brand in the disputed domain name.

In addition to this, the very fact that the disputed domain name was registered by the Respondent subsequent to the Complainant's use of the brand 'RJIL' clearly establishes that the Respondent must have registered the domain name to cash in on the popularity of the Complainant's brand, and to encash on the goodwill and reputation. Additionally, the fact that the Respondent has not submitted any response in its defence, as well as the fact that the WHOIS details provided by the Respondent are either incomplete or incorrect, indicates, under the present circumstances, the lack of rights and legitimate interests of the Respondent in the disputed domain name.

For these reasons, the Panel finds that the Respondent has no rights or legitimate interests in the disputed domain name. [Relevant Decisions: Aon PLC and Ors. v. Guanrui, INDRP/633; Wells Fargo & Co. and Anr. v. SreeDas Kumar, INDRP/666; QRG Enterprises Limited & Anr. v. Zhang Mi, INDRP/852; Santa Fe Transport International Limited and Santa Fe Moving Services Private Limited v. Santa fe Packers, Packers Movers WIPO Case No. D2017-0754; Havells India Limited and Anr. v. Whois Foundation, WIPO Case No. D2016-1775; Mahendra Singh Dhoni and Anr. v. David Hanley, WIPO Case No. D2016-1692]

The Registrant's domain name has been registered or is being used in bad faith.

It has been contended by the Complainant that the Respondent has registered and has used the disputed domain name in bad faith. The language of the INDRP paragraph 4(c) is clear enough, and requires that either bad faith registration or bad faith use be proved.

Paragraph 7 of the INDRP provides that the following circumstances are deemed to be evidence that a Respondent has registered and used a domain name in bad faith:

"For the purposes of Clause 4(c), the following circumstances, in particular but without limitation, if found by the Arbitrator to be present, shall be evidence of the Registration and use of a domain name in bad faith:

- (a) Circumstances indicating that the Registrant has registered or acquired the domain name primarily for the purpose of selling, renting, or otherwise transferring the domain name registration to the Complainant, who bears the name or is the owner of the trademark or service mark, or to a competitor of that Complainant, for valuable consideration in excess of the Registrant's documented out-of-pocket costs directly related to the domain name; or
- (b) the Registrant has registered the domain name in order to prevent the owner of the trademark or service mark from reflecting the mark in a corresponding domain name, provided that the Registrant has engaged in a pattern of such conduct; or
- (c) by using the domain name, the Registrant has intentionally attempted to attract Internet users to the Registrant's website or other on-line location, by creating a likelihood of confusion with the Complainant's name or mark as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or endorsement of the Registrant's website or location or of a product or service on the Registrant's website or location; or
- (d) The Registrant has registered the domain name primarily for the purpose of disrupting the business of a competitor."

From the circumstances of the case and from the evidences put before the Panel by the Complainant, the Panel is of the opinion that the Respondent had no previous connection with the disputed domain name or the mark 'JIO' or brand 'RJIL' and any use of the disputed domain name by the Respondent, would result in confusion and deception of the trade, consumers and public, who would assume a connection or association between the Complainant and the Respondent's website or other online locations of the Respondent or product/service on the Respondent's website and otherwise, due to the use by Respondent of the Complainant's mark 'JIO' or brand 'RJIL' in the disputed domain name, which mark and brand has been widely used by the Complainant and which mark and brand is associated exclusively with the Complainant.

The Panel is prepared to accept the Complainant's contention that its mark and the corresponding business through its websites, including the official websites <www.jio.com> and <www.ril.com> is famous. With regard to famous names, successive UDRP panels have found bad faith registration because the Complainant's name was famous at the time of registration: WIPO/D2000-0310 [choyongpil.net].

Based on the submissions and evidences put forth before the Panel, the Panel is of the belief that the Respondent would definitely have known about the Complainant's mark 'JIO' and brand 'RJIL' and its reputation at the time of registering the disputed domain name.

The disputed domain name is deceptively similar to the mark and brand of the Complainant and will lead to confusion with the Complainant's mark 'JIO' and brand 'RJIL' as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation or endorsement of the Respondent's business by the Complainant. Moreover, the portrayal of an association with the Complainant's brand is, in view of the Panel, a constituent of bad faith on the part of the Respondent. It has been held by INDRP panels that intentionally attempting to attract or gain Internet users to the Respondent's website or other online location by creating a likelihood of confusion with Complainant's trademark constitutes bad faith: [Relevant Decisions: Bharti Airtel Limited vs. Rajeev Garg, INDRP/285; Merck KGaA v. Zeng Wei, INDRP/323; General Motors India Pvt. Ltd. & Anr. v. Anish Sharma, INDRP/799; Sensient Technologies Corporation v. Katrina Kaif, Corporate Domain, INDRP/207]

The fact that the disputed domain name was registered by the Respondent subsequent to the Complainant's use of the mark 'JIO' and brand 'RJIL' makes it apparent that the Respondent must have registered the domain name to cash in on the popularity of the Complainant's 'JIO' mark and 'RJIL' brand and websites. Additionally, the fact that the Respondent has not submitted any response in its defence, as well as the fact that the WHOIS details provided by the Respondent are either incomplete or incorrect, are both indicators of bad faith under the present circumstances.

On bad faith registration and use [generally], panels have noted: "Registration of a well-known trademark by a party with no connection to the owner of the trademark and no authorization and no legitimate purpose to utilize the mark reveals bad faith": NAF/FA95314 [thecaravanclub.com], WIPO/D2000-0808 [very use of domain name by Respondent who had no connection whatsoever with Complainant's mark and product suggests opportunistic bad faith - 4icq.com]; "Registration of a domain name that is confusingly similar or identical to a famous trademark....is itself sufficient evidence of bad faith registration and use" [Wells Fargo & Co. and Anr. v. Krishna Reddy, INDRP/581; QRG Enterprises Limited & Anr. v. Zhang Mi, INDRP/852].

Thus, all three conditions given in paragraph 4 of the INDRP are proved in the circumstances of this case and thus the registration of the impugned domain name by the Respondent/Registrant is a registration in bad faith.

Decision

The Respondent has failed to comply with Para 3 of the INDRP, which requires that it is the responsibility of the Respondent to ensure, before the registration of the impugned domain name by him, that the domain name registration does not infringe or violate someone else's rights.

The Complainant has given sufficient evidence to prove extensive trademark rights over the disputed domain name. Further, the Respondent's adoption and registration of the disputed domain name is dishonest and malafide.

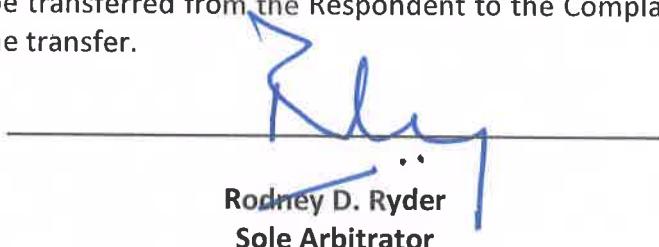

While the overall burden of proof rests with the Complainant, panels have recognised that this could result in the often-impossible task of proving a negative, requiring information that is often primarily within the knowledge of the Respondent. Therefore, the Complainant is required to make out a prima facie case that the Respondent lacks rights or legitimate interests. Once such a prima facie case is made, the Respondent carries the burden of demonstrating rights or legitimate interests in the domain name. In this case, the Respondent did not file any response in its defense. Based on the facts of the case, it is apparent that the Respondent is using the disputed domain name in bad faith and has registered the domain name to cash in on the reputation of the Complainant's mark and to prevent the owner of the trademark or service mark from reflecting the mark in a corresponding domain name.

The Respondent's registration and use of the domain name [www.rjil.in] is abusive and in bad faith. The Respondent has no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the domain name. In accordance with Policy and Rules, the Panel directs that the disputed domain name [www.rjil.in] be transferred from the Respondent to the Complainant; with a request to NIXI to monitor the transfer.
